BULLETIN BOARD POLICY

The Divernon Township Library maintains a public bulletin board to facilitate community communication and engagement.

The Library recognizes and respects differences in opinion. Flyers and materials posted on the library's bulletin board are the poster's sole responsibility, and posting of the materials to the bulletin board does not imply endorsement or agreement by the Library.

All materials posted on the bulletin board are subject to review, and the Library reserves the right but is not required, to remove any materials that it deems, in its sole discretion, to be:

- Obscene, homophobic, transphobic, sexist, hateful, or racist content
- Personal attacks, insults, or threatening language
- Potentially libelous statements
- Private and personal information published without consent
- Violations of copyright, trademark right, or other intellectual property right of any third party

By using the Library's bulletin board, Patrons agree to abide by this policy and all other rules and policies of the Library. Abuse or violation of this policy may result in the responsible poster being barred from posting any subsequent messages to the Library's bulletin board.

The Library, its Board of Trustees, employees, agents, and officials assume no responsibility for any damages, direct or indirect, arising from posting to, or receiving information from, the Library's bulletin board. In addition, patrons agree to indemnify the Library and its Board of Trustees and employees, from and against all liabilities, judgments, damages, and costs (including attorney's fees) incurred arising from or related to posted content.
